INFORMATION
EVALUATION

1. The Bureau of International Aid for the Democracies in Belgrade has of late been actively engaged in recruiting and enrolling international brigade volunteers in Slovenia. Most of the volunteers come from the Soviet Zone of occupation in Germany

2. The staff which deals with the enrollment of recruits is located at 4-8 Kopitarjeva ulica, Ljubljana, on the premises of the Communist Party paper Ljudska Pravica. It is headed by Captain Alojz Herman of the Yugoslav Army. Herman's secretary is one Marica Pockaj, a member of the Women's Anti-Fascist Union (AFZ).

3. The camp at which the volunteers are assembled is near Kamnik, 25 kilometers from Ljubljana. The camp consists of war-time huts and a rest-house. The code name of the camp is "Tvorica".

4. Volunteers spend five to seven days at this camp while they are checked by the Ljubljana office. They are then taken by truck to Karlovac in groups of 40-50.

5. There is a large training camp for enlisted volunteers at Karlovac as well as a camp for officers. The enlisted camp is capable of accommodating 1,500 and the officer camp 200.
